Prompt: Does this clause bind the supplier ? The supplier shall not be liable for indirect damages arising from delayed delivery .

Generated: Yes, this clause likely binds the supplier, but with some important caveats. Here's a breakdown of what it means and the potential limitations: What it means: * "Indirect Damages"* (also known as consequential damages):* This is the key part. Indirect damages are losses that result from the breach of contract (in this case, delayed delivery), but are not a direct result of the delay itself. Examples include: * Lost profits due to the buyer being unable to fulfill their own contracts because of the delayed delivery. * Damage to the buyer's reputation. * Loss of business opportunities. * Costs incurred to find a replacement supplier. * "Arising from delayed delivery": This connects the indirect damages specifically to the delay. *
